and an effort will be made to secure such prominent temperance advocates as Secretary of State Bryan and Secretary of the Navy Daniels to speak at different times.

On every available display sign space the committee will paste placards and monster electric signs reading, "Did booze ever do any good." In letters five feet high. These signs will be lighted and blazing from sunset down to sunrise. Great mass meetings will be held weekly. Smaller meetings will be held mornings and afternoons every day in the week after the real campaign gets well under way. A publicity staff of a half dozen of more men and women, some of whom have already been arranged for, will be named to keep the newspapers of the city and all over the state supplied with features.

That the saloon men are admittedly alarmed over the fight which they have openly been told was to be waged against them. This can be seen in the marshalling of forces on that side of the liquor question. Many Chicagoans saw in Mayor Harrison's defeat at the recent municipal primaries for re-election, the finger of the saloon interests. Harrison, during the closing months of his incumbency, has closed up many of the worst drink resorts in the city. The famous Hinky Dinky Kenna and his able aid, "Bath House" John Coughlin, feudal lords of the old levee district, formerly were with Mayor Harrison, foot, guns and horse. At the recent primaries, they "declared neutrality". Their warps went overwhelmingly against Harrison.

Speakers of national fame will be brought to Chicago to aid in the fight. They will be led by G. F. Rhinehart, "the man who made Arizona dry," "Billy" Sunday will be called on to

Moving Pictures

"Under Fire in Mexico," a three-reel offering in which love and warfare are the main factors, is the headliner on the Orpheus bill tonight. This feature is replete with thrilling and patriotic situations and is well worth seeing. "Camille as She Never Was" is one of those comedies with action and laugh provoking situations every scene.

In addition to the above program, "A Leap in the Dark," the third episode of "The Million Dollar Mystery," will be shown. Interest in this wonderful serial is rapidly increasing, and "The Trey 'O Hearts" is likely to be overshadowed by this new offering.

"The Poisoned Room," the fifth episode of "The Exploits of Elaine," will be presented at the Star theater tonight only. It is not necessary to dwell on this subject, as everyone is familiar with the story and the quality of the picture.

Arthur V. Johnson will be seen in the two part Lubin drama, "A Man with a Future." The fifth and concluding number of the bill is the Essanay comedy offering, "Stopping the Limited."

Tuesday and Wednesday the big six reel Lubin production of "The Wolf" will be presented. The management feels justified in doing a little "blowing" regarding the quality of this feature, as the film critics say that it is positively the greatest thing that Lubin has ever attempted. According to their comment, every detail has been carefully looked after to insure a production that would live long in the memory of theater goers as one of the really high class photoplay productions. The scenes are for the most part taken in the great Canadian north woods, in the dead of winter, and are reputed to be the best selected of any of the northern pictures. The cast, and, in fact, everything in the picture receives the highest praise. Money cannot buy the critics; the comment is given strictly on the merits of the picture.

"The Wolf" is from the pen of Eugene Walter, author of "The Eastern Way," "Paid in Full," and many other notable books.
